Well, I can look back on it and think how lucky I was to get through. I mean, you had to get a tram to get down to Lewisham and anything might have happened on the way. And you know, we heard about people who had the bombs on their homes. I mean, we were lucky, you know. The home kept going and we didn't suffer as long as we went down, you know, in the shelter every night, that – that was the main thing. We were out of the way of everything.
